This is in response to Paper filed on 07 October 2004.

I. Priority document has been on the record.

II. A. (1) It is allowed to claim by a functional, characteristic, conditional, physical and/or chemical property of a material and /or process. (2) However, a claimed functional, characteristic, conditional, physical and/or chemical property of a material and/or process carries with a risk (In re In re Schreiber, 44 USPQ2d 1432). It is reasonable that the Office is not supplied, provided or equipped with a sufficient facility to carry out a test for the functional, characteristic, conditional, physical and/or chemical properties as claimed in accordance with the authority stated in In re Best, 195 USPQ 430; Ex parte Maizel, 27 USPQ2d 1662 or Ex parte Phillip, 28 USPQ2d 1302. Please also see the related issue with respect no patentable sense as stated in In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138. The language “alkali-soluble polymerizable polymer”, “polymerizable group”, “alkali-soluble group” or the like is considered as property of a material and searched as appeared.

B. In re Schreiber, 44 USPQ2d 1429 states that “A patent applicant is free to recite features of an apparatus either structurally or functionally. See In re Swinehart... 169 USPQ 226, 228... Yet, choosing to define an element functionally, i.e., by what it does, carries with a risk.

III. Applicants' prior art submissions have been considered to the extent of the English language and chemical structures only.

IV. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

(1) Jumikazu et al (JP8276558 as submitted) show the use of polymer having a side chain with "X" having C=C as polymerizable group as shown in the instant application but fail to include an end branch with "A" having an alkali-soluble group as shown in the instant application.

(2) Negoro et al (6,531,195, 6,540,940 and 2002/0048639), Oshima (2003/0198893), Takeuchi et al (2004/0100600) and Obayashi et al (JP02004093947 with Abstracts) are cited to show related art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

V. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Hoa V. Le whose telephone number is 571-272-1332.
